FOLA LAFOLLETTE TALKS SUFFRAGE

Drives Home Points of Argument for Votes for Women with Irrefutable Logic

ZONA GALE GIVES READING

Tells Story of Eastern Village and Indirect Influence of Women in Community

With the same direct method of dealing with facts that characterized the speeches of her father, Fola La Follette, daughter of the senior senator from Wisconsin and famous in her own right as an advocate of equal suffrage, last night impressed one of the largest audiences that has ever filled the La Crosse Theater, with a speech that for sound logic and clarity of argument has seldom been equaled in this city. In her statement of the purpose of the campaign for woman's franchise, Miss La Follette showed rare acumen in her analysis of the political situation, the principles of democracy and the wrongs that have sprung into existence in state and nation. She made point after point in her argument that the ballot in the hands of women would do much toward remedying existing evil conditions and drove home each point with irrefutable logic, quoting instances from the experience of states where women have had the franchise for a number of years.

Miss Gale Gives Reading
Miss La Follette was accompanied and assisted in her campaign in this city by a fellow alumna of the University of Wisconsin, Miss Zona Gale, who gave a reading from a book of which she herself is the author, Miss Gale's reading was a portrayal of women's "indirect influence" in the political affairs of a New England village through which the thread of equal suffrage argument was woven with the delicate touch of an artist. She was heartily applauded time and again and the quaint bits of human nature told in the vernacular of the "down easterners" afforded the audience several good laughs. The serious side of her story, showing the bungling hand of the village common council in the affairs of the town, was deeply impressive.

The meeting opened with the song, "On Wisconsin," by a chorus of young men. Lieutenant Governor Thomas Morris introduced both speakers in a short speech in which he characterized the woman suffrage movement as a principle that "cannot be laughed out of court" but a question that must be met and solved by the voters of Wisconsin.

Miss La Follette in her address declared woman's sphere has always been the conservation of human life. She pictured the cave-man going out with bow and spear and bringing home the means of support for the family, while his mate prepared it for him and his family. The same underlying principle exists today, she said, except the man seeks the dollar for the support of his family while his wife turns it into food, clothing and the other necessities of life.

She declared that if the two points of view were utilized in government they would work to the ultimate good of the whole people.

People Vote as They Think
"It is natural," she said, "that people vote as they think. Ever since the beginning of the human race, it has been the duty of the man to provide for the family and for this reason he votes in the terms of dollars and cents while his wife who has for countless generations devoted her energies to the preserving of the family would vote for the conservation of human life."

Times have changed so that the struggle is no longer that of man against women or women against man, but it is a struggle of all together for the future of the race—for generations yet unborn. Woman, whether she has a family or not, is a mother and on her depends the future of the human family.

Senator Works of California, told me recently that the two forces in his state that actively opposed woman suffrage were the two that opposed all forms of progressive legislation. They were the big interests and organized vice, and we had those two interests aligned against us everywhere.

"We often hear the fear expressed that if women are granted the vote, only the ignorant classes will take advantage of it. Ignorance means different things to different people. The laboring women fear that women of leisure do not understand their needs and conditions while the upper classes are prone to a misunderstanding of the intelligence of the workers. The sum of individual needs brings common justice in the community."

"Personal ownership of human beings ended with the Civil war and if the democracy of our country is to be carried out in its fullest meaning every group of interests must be given a voice in the government."

Virginia Will Execute Woman For First Time

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 3.—Virginia is about to execute a woman for murder—for the first time in the history of the commonwealth so far as known.

Governor Mann was said today to have decided against a further respite for the sixteen year old negro girl, Virginia Christian, who murdered her employer, Mrs. Ida Beloit, at Hampton, Va., under particularly atrocious circumstances. Virginia Christian's death in the electric chair was originally set for August 2, but a few days before that date, Governor Mann granted her a respite until August 16. It was tacitly acknowledged today by those who have been urging the governor to commute her sentence to life imprisonment that the state executive will not stay the death sentence. According to the belief he expressed in the Beattie case, Governor Mann does not think it wise to grant mercy unless there is the element of doubt as to commission of the crime, extenuating circumstances, or physical disability, in the condemned person.

The condemned girl will be removed to a death cell in the Richmond jail within the next few days.

WILSON NOT TO STUMP COUNTRY

May Make Few Speeches, but Will Not Go on General Speaking Tour

WILL BEGIN SEPTEMBER 1ST

Governor Says Party's Active Campaign Will Start Early in Fall

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 3.—Governor Wilson will not make a general stumping tour of the country in his presidential campaign, but will probably make a few speeches in debatable states. The governor made this announcement today.

"I will not stump the country," he said, "I have definitely determined upon that. I anticipate that I will make a few speeches during the campaign at times and places considered desirable by the campaign committee and myself. I assume that the speaking campaign, not necessarily mine, but that of the organization, will begin about September 1."

"You will make such speeches as the committee decides best for you to make?" he was asked.

Governor Wilson smiled and said: "Yes, if I agreed with 'em."

Asked specifically if he would speak on the Pacific coast, Governor Wilson said: "Well, that would be a large order, and would almost necessarily involve a stumping tour—which I positively will not make—but I cannot say definitely about specific states where I will speak, as that will be decided as the campaign develops and as a result of conferences between myself and the campaign committee."

DANIEL PHELPS DIES SUDDENLY

Veteran of Civil War Was Long Engaged in Grocery Business in This City

Daniel B. Phelps, 1431 Farnam street, a member of the First Wisconsin cavalry in the civil war, died of heart disease at his home yesterday afternoon following an illness of two years' duration.

Mr. Phelps, who was sixty-eight years old, was born in Lockport, N. Y., on July 24, 1844. He fought in the civil war and was a member of the McKinley post of the G. A. R. For the last thirteen years he has resided in La Crosse and he has been in the confectionery and grocery business which was located on Farnam street.

Surviving him are his widow, two sons, George A. Phelps, 1402 Jackson street, and William H. Phelps, 1431 Farnam street, and one daughter, Mrs. S. L. James of Jacksonville, Fla.

The funeral will probably be held from the residence at two o'clock Monday afternoon but the date will be definitely announced later, when the relatives who live out of the city have been heard from. The pallbearers will be chosen from among the members of the McKinley post of the G. A. R.

CONFIDENCE MAN AID TO WHITMAN

Friend of Rosenthal Tells District Attorney Full Inside Story of Police Graft

CITIZENS TO TAKE ACTION

Prominent Gothamites Call Mass Meeting to Discuss Graft and Lawlessness of Police

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—That a complete statement regarding the gambling operations in this city and the alliance between the underworld and the police is in possession of District Attorney Whitman developed today. This statement came from a witness whose identity is carefully hidden but his statements have been verified and found accurate. The man is one of the most noted confidence men in America, an individual who served several terms in prison. He volunteered to aid the district attorney following the murder of Rosenthal because, he said, the slain gambler had aided him when he was last released from prison by getting him a job and furnishing him with money.

Overheard Plot

According to the reports at the district attorney's office this individual overheard the plot to put Rosenthal out of the way discussed on the excursion of the Sam Paul association the Sunday prior to the actual murder. He was the first man to give the district attorney the names of the actual murderers, saying he had warned Rosenthal to be careful, but that Rosenthal had refused to take precautions. He has compiled in his statement a list of gambling houses with the amounts of protection money paid by each, and this list, it is stated, is identical with that turned in by Jack Rose. He also furnished the names of many valuable witnesses who have been interrogated by the district attorney and his aides.

Call Mass Meeting

A letter sent out today signed by Jacob H. Schiff, Felix Adler, Eugene A. Outerbridge, Eugene A. Philbin and others, called for a citizens' mass meeting in co-operation to discuss the police department's alleged connection with the Herman Rosenthal murder and the wholesale charges of graft in the department. The letter stated that the meeting would be held very soon, the date to be announced later.

"The state of lawlessness now existing in this city under cover of which crimes have been committed with impunity," the letter said in part, "and criminals permitted to go unpunished, has reached a point where public sentiment demands that the officials charged with the enforcement of the laws for the protection and well-being of our citizens shall perform the duties of their offices in the full confidence that such performance will have strong public support."

This city was amazed today over the admission from the district attorney's office that Attorney Louis Spiegel, who has been retained by the two men under arrest for the actual murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, is calmly negotiating for the surrender of the two who are still fugitive from justice—"Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie."

He was said to have told Assistant District Attorney Frank Moss that the two men will come in and surrender, as all of the noted gamblers in the net have done, if guaranteed immunity from any third degree either at the hands of the police or the district attorney. The lawyer is to get his answer on Monday, when District Attorney Whitman returns to this city, unless in the meanwhile the men are turned up either by the police or private detectives who are searching for them.

Criticize Police

There was renewed criticism of the police because the men had not been arrested, and there were rumors that they were safely hidden in some resort in this city while the police were searching the Catskill mountain regions for them.

Frank Moss has personally taken up the work of probing the graft alliance. His chief, District Attorney Whitman, has insisted that the real issue in the present case is the punishment of the murderers of Herman Rosenthal. Moss, who has a record as a reform lawyer, and was chief counsel for the association for the prevention of crime and similar organizations, holds that the apprehension of the ten higher up who actually received the graft payments is equally as necessary. In some respects it is known Moss believes the exposure of the graft alliance is much more important. Mr. Moss says the amount involved is far more than the latest estimate by Jack Rose of $2,400,000 and he intends to run down every lead suggested by Jack Rose, "Bridgey" Webber and Harry Vallon in their confessions.

Jack Rose's declaration that former Assistant District Attorney Hart, counsel for Becker, visited him in Harry Pollock's house while the police were searching for them.

Freight Handler Is Champ Grub Handler

BROCKTON, Mass., Aug. 3.—Officials of a big shoe manufacturing firm here were today trying to match George Marshall of Easton, one of their freight handlers, for the food consumption championship of the east, as a result of the physical demonstration given them by As a matter of daily routine he consumed six extra thick corn beef sandwiches and homemade doughnuts, three segments of homemade pie, and four potatoes. When he asked for dessert three dozen bananas were purchased and thirty-three of them were consumed. George still insisted he was hungry, so the firm members will try to arrange a competition to see what his limit is.

DREW TO MANAGE OWEN CAMPAIGN

Former Confidential Secretary to La Follette Says Maiden Rock Man Is Ardent Progressive

LAWYER OF HIGH STANDING

Says Nomination for Attorney General Will Strengthen Republican State Ticket

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—Attorney Walter Drew of Madison, formerly for many years confidential secretary of Senator La Follette, and prior to that time deputy commissioner of labor at Madison, has been named by Senator Walter C. Owen as the senator's campaign manager in his campaign for the republican nomination for the office of attorney general. Mr. Drew was in Milwaukee today on legal business when word was received of the filing by Senator Owen of his appointment as the senator's campaign manager, and said he "would feel highly honored to assist Senator Owen in his campaign." Of Senator Owen and his candidacy, Mr. Drew said:

"The office of attorney general is a highly important office. I believe it has more points of contact with public interest and may be made of greater service to the people in those things that affect them in their every day lives than any other state office. I believe Senator Owen has a higher conception of the duties and opportunities of the office than any man who has held it within my recollection."

Ardent Progressive

"Senator Owen is an ardent progressive and has the record for service to the progressive cause going back to the earliest of La Follette's campaigns. During the years when I was employed in a confidential capacity by Senator La Follette and was in a position to know, I knew that there was no one who took an active and prominent part in the public affairs who was regarded by Senator La Follette as any more loyal than 'Walt' Owen. Few, indeed, were as ready at all times to sacrifice personal and business interests and get out and work for the progressive cause. Senator Owen is a lawyer of twenty-one years active practice and of high standing. His political activities have always been at large financial sacrifice. He has never sought or held office for pay."

"In the senate, Senator Owen has earned the highest esteem of his colleagues, both as a lawyer and as a progressive senator. Five of the progressive leaders of that body, Sanborn, Boshard, Scott, Weigle and Klecksa, have issued a strong dignified statement in behalf of Senator Owen's candidacy, a statement to which, I believe, every progressive in that body would gladly subscribe."

Has Splendid Record

Owen has a splendid record of constructive statesmanship on the progressive legislation which has been enacted during the six years of his membership in the senate. He has taken a leading part in all progressive legislation relating to banks, insurance, trust companies and as chairman of the senate committee on corporations, he established what I believe is a record rarely, if ever, equaled, of having the reports and recommendations of his committee approved by a vote of the senate without a single exception throughout the entire session. The reorganization of the senate committees in the last session to secure greater efficiency and a more even distribution of the work of the senate was an important reform adopted by the senate on Senator Owen's initiative. It was the accomplishment in our own legislature of one of the principal things Senator La Follette has been contending for in Washington.

"The nomination of Senator Owen will contribute greatly to the strength of the republican state ticket. Indeed, with the other nominations which are certain, the nomination of Senator Owen will give us the best state ticket, taken from top to bottom, that the republicans have presented to the voters of this state in many years."

MEXICAN REBELS FIRE OVER LINE

United States Soldiers in a Brisk Skirmish with Gringos Across Border

NO AMERICANS ARE INJURED

Fifty Shots Exchanged with No Damage; Trouble Believed Started to Hide Smuggling

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 3.—Mexican rebels and United States soldiers exchanged more than fifty shots across the border late last night and early today in East El Paso and the homes of five Americans in El Paso were struck by Mexican bullets.

Rebels opened fire upon the American soldiers on duty near the El Paso foundry in the darkness, and the Americans returned the fire, shooting in the direction from which the Mexican shots had come. No Americans were injured, and it is not known if any Mexicans were struck, as neither side could see the other.

The battle attracted state rangers, and a sheriff's posse went to the scene, and the river was searched from the American side, but the rebels had escaped. The affair has been reported to Colonel E. Z. Steever, commanding the American troops here and an official investigation is being made.

It is believed the shooting was started by rebels to occupy the attention of the river patrol so that ammunition might be smuggled across.

The rebel army of General Salazar is in full flight to the north and is expected to reach Juarez by tonight. It is announced that Orozco and Salazar will then take their forces into the mountains of Juarez. The rebel defeat in the Casas Grandes country and on the Sonora border has been complete and the federal armies of General Sanjines and General Blanco and the forces from Chihuahua are all moving toward Juarez driving the rebels before them. General Orozco has seized the Mexico-Northwestern railroad, has stopped all trains except those run by the rebels to get troops to the north and has cut off the flight of hundreds of American colonists in the Casas Grandes country.

LAUGHS AT THE COLONEL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—There was much White House discussion today of Col. Roosevelt's published purpose of standing for a "Bly white" progressive party in the south. "The colonel shows a white light in the south and a black in the north," sarcastically declared Secretary to the President Thompson. "It is odd how the blood of the colonel, southern as it is, turns against the negro down south, while the Roosevelt blood, northern, of course, boils over in sympathy with the black man, but the northern black man only."

LA CROSSE GETS INVITATION

Dr. J. M. Furstman is in receipt of a letter from S. M. Gunn, U. S. assistant secretary general, urging that La Crosse be represented at the International Congress on Hygiene and Demography to be held at Washington September 23 to 28. Mayor John Dengler is in receipt of a similar letter. Mr. Dengler today declared that he will take the matter up at the next meeting of the city council and will urge that Dr. Furstman will be sent to represent La Crosse.

START LONG RACE

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 3.—Half a hundred motor cyclists dashed from the public square here at 11:30 o'clock today for a race to Pittsburgh, the course extending 135 miles. It was expected the winner would reach the Smoky city by 5 p. m. The race was conducted by the Pittsburgh Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The house voted to adopt the unanimous report of the committee on elections that Representative Higgins of Connecticut was legally entitled to his seat. His democratic opponent contested it.

TO BUY MORE STREET OIL

The special street improvement committee of the city council decided to recommend the purchase of more street oil at a meeting held at the city hall last night.

NO TRIAL TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 3.—There was no session of the Darrow bribery trial today.

Miss Viola Houska, 423 Adams street, was the lucky lady in the "Guess Who's Here" contest of last week, the subject of which was Jay Wilson.

Paris Applauds Block In Standing By Wife

PARIS, Aug. 3.—In coming to the assistance of his wife, who killed Mrs. James Bridgman, as the only means of ending his infatuation for the latter, the consensus of French opinion today is that Gaston Block has done an extremely handsome thing.

"All my sympathies are with my wife," Block said in a statement. "She is a model spouse, an irreproachable mother and a dramatic author of great talent. She is also younger than my friend, Mrs. Bridgman and not less handsome."

The French idea is that this ought to satisfy any wife and the sentimental boulevardiers are rejoicing at the news that the Blocks are completely reconciled. It is not to be wondered at, however, everybody is saying. A wife such as Block describes must naturally be the sort of a woman to hold her husband's affection, especially after such a display of spirit as Mrs. Block showed in eliminating Mrs. Bridgman. And as for Block, a man who can express himself so gracefully in what must really be a trying situation for him, certainly is a husband to be proud of, they say.

CONVENTION WILD ABOUT COLONEL

Theatrical Exposure of His Picture in Darkened Hall Starts Stampede at Meet

THIRD STATE SLATE SURE

Illinois Bull Moose Certain to Name Complete Ticket Against Deneen

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—With a dramatic demonstration for Col. Roosevelt, the state convention of Illinois progressives was opened today in Orchestra hall. Prayer had just been completed when all the lights in the big hall were extinguished. Flags draping the rear of the platform were drawn back, and an electrically lighted picture of Roosevelt blazed forth. The bands played patriotic airs and county standards were torn up and waved madly, while the cheering lasted five minutes.

Medill McCormick, who had called the convention to order, rapped with his gavel. A woman in the gallery waved a big flag. The tumult broke again. A man standing on his chair yelled: "Three cheers for the bull moose."

When order finally was restored McCormick introduced Charles E. Merriam, the temporary chairman. At the conclusion of his speech a telegram from Col. Roosevelt was read. It congratulated the Illinois third party.

It was practically assured when Medill McCormick called the convention to order that a third ticket for every office from governor to university trustees would be nominated, in accord with the wishes of Col. Roosevelt. It was also practically assured that State Senator Frank H. Funk of Bloomington would be nominated for governor.

There was some doubt about the endorsement of a candidate for the United States senate.

AIKEN RUNS FOR TREASURER JOB

Changes Mind After Circulating Papers for Nomination for Register of Deeds

Frank H. Aiken, Onalaska, who announced his candidacy for register of deeds on the republican ticket, withdrew at 4:30 yesterday afternoon and announced that he will run for the office of county treasurer. Several of Mr. Aiken's papers for the nomination of register of deeds were being circulated yesterday, but these were called in and nomination papers for the position of county treasurer were distributed among his friends today. His papers must be filed today, as this is the last day of filing.

The office of the county clerk will remain open this afternoon to allow all candidates who have not already done so to file their nomination papers.

A large number of La Crosse democrats have written to J. L. Utermoehl, secretary of the Board of Trade, announcing their intention of attending the Karel meeting to be held Monday night, at which time a La Crosse Karel club will be organized.

LA CROSSE BOYS BACK FROM CAMP

Sunburned Warriors Make Envious Record and "Out-regular" the Regulars

ALL ARE IN GOOD HEALTH

Payday Detracts Nothing from the Pleasure of Maneuver Outing at Sparta

(By Special War Correspondent)
Tanned by the suns of fourteen days of active soldier life, the two local companies of militiamen returned this morning from Camp McCoy, Sparta, where they have been in camp for the last three days. The Blues of which Companies M and B of La Crosse were integral parts usurped the camp grounds of the invading Reds Wednesday afternoon and as a result the La Crosse boys arrived in excellent spirits because of the two and a half days rest which was afforded them.

Companies M and B, and L of Sparta and the Third Regiment Hospital corps were the very last to board the train for home and the early hours of this morning were spent in preparing for the trip home. Payday yesterday enabled the men to relieve the popcorn boys of all the baked cereal which they could bring into camp and the guards were doubled around the tents to take all precaution against anyone being robbed of his earnings.

Home Boys Make Record

A remarkable record was made by the La Crosse boys in the matter of keeping in good health. Not a single man was laid up in the hospital during the entire two weeks and although the local boys were repeatedly chosen to make the most critical movements they all came through without an ailment. After having been on provost guard duty the day and night before, Company M was required Wednesday morning to fall in line with the other companies of the First Battalion and it was the prediction of the umpires that it would fag out before the end of the long march was reached. To their surprise they came swinging into Camp McCoy with a springing step with all men in the ranks while other companies had left men lying by the roadside overcome by the exertion.

The officers of Colonel Holway's staff presented Mrs. Mary L. McArthur, the aged mother of Captain D. S. McArthur, medical officer of the Third Regiment, with a huge bouquet of roses as a remembrance of her eighty-fourth birthday which occurred this week.

Rawlinson There With the "Eats"
Lieutenant Charles Rawlinson, the popular county clerk of La Crosse county, has won the good will of the men in the Third Regiment by the efficient way in which he handled the commissary supplies during the entire campaign. He had everything figured out to a frazzle and there were never any unnecessary waits for needed "eats" which sometimes characterize war maneuvers.

Company M of La Crosse was defeated in a close game of baseball yesterday morning by a team from Company L of Sparta. The score was always close and the winning run was not shored over until the eighth inning. Strum and Nesham were the batteries for Co. M and Clark and McCumber for Company L.

Weather Conditions

The high pressure continues central over Manitoba but has spread southward into the central states causing lower temperature in the central Mississippi and Ohio valleys. The pressure is lowest west of the Rocky mountains. Local showers have occurred in the Rocky mountain districts, from the central Mississippi valley to the New England states and in the gulf states. Rain is falling this morning in western South Dakota, southeastern Montana, at St. Louis and Louisville; elsewhere the weather is fair.

The high will dominate the conditions in this section tonight and Sunday and the weather will probably continue fair and cool.

Custer—"The Knight In Velvet"

WHAT American boy has not thrilled over the deeds of that master leader of men—George A. Custer?

Never was a career more dramatic; never was a career more tragic. Facing death hundreds of times during the Civil War he was thought to bear a charmed life—but only a few years thereafter his daring, impetuous bravery cost him his life at the hands of the Sioux Indians.

We have read many a thrilling tale of heroism and gallantry of "Dare-devil" Custer—but of how this reckless cavalier fought through the war dressed as a mediaeval cavalier we knew practically nothing until the discovery and publication of the Long-Lost

BRADY War Photographs

In Sixteen Superb Sections—10c
One Each Week for Coupon and

Surprising it is to find in these photographs that this born leader of men, trusted bearer of responsibilities involving the lives of thousands, was picturesque in costume to a degree. One photograph taken before the battle of Gettysburg shows him clad in a suit of black velvet, elaborately trimmed with gold lace, which ran down the outer seam of his trousers and almost covered the sleeves of his cavalry jacket.

The wide collar of a navy blue shirt was turned down over the collar of his velvet jacket, and a necktie of brilliant crimson was tied in a graceful knot at the throat, the long ends falling carelessly in front.

The double rows of buttons on his breast were arranged in groups of twos; a soft black hat with wide brim adorned with a gilt cord and a rosette encircling a silver star was worn turned down on one side, giving him a rakish air. His golden hair fell in graceful luxuriance nearly or quite to his shoulder, and a sword and belt, gilt spurs and topboots completed his unique outfit.

Another War-time photograph reveals the gallant Knight "Jeb" Stuart, with his famous plumed hat. The very interesting story in connection with this plume, how both hat and plume were captured, how Stuart, himself, narrowly escaped, and how he "made the Yankees pay for the hat" is told in the text which follows the picture.

Hundreds of other pictures in the Brady collection show us great men at critical moments. Some of these men are dressed in fancy garb, others in plainest costume, or in uniforms ragged and dirty, with color washed out and buttons ripped off.

These photographs show you the really great men of a great war, not as fancied by any artist, but as they were during the stirring years of 1861 to 1865. They tell us the truth. If you haven't started collecting the series of Brady War Pictures, begin right away. Cut out the coupon now and we will supply you with either or all of the first nine sections for 10 cents each and one coupon.

MAGNIFICENT HORSEMAN

This martial photograph portrays Gen. Custer, one of the men who prevented the success of the Confederate Gen. Stuart's charge on the third day at Gettysburg, when the tide of battle between the long lines of infantry had been wavering to and fro, and Pickett was advancing on Cemetery Ridge. Note Custer's upright bearing and dashing, easy seat. No one who has ever seen him could mistake this actual photograph taken before the battle.

What We Have Done for Our Readers

Never before has a newspaper been able to do its readers a more valuable service. We have secured the rights to publish and distribute among the patriotic homes of this city the famous Brady photographs taken 50 years ago on the actual fields of battle. These historic scenes, and men who made history 1861-1865, with the complete story of that great struggle by Prof. Henry W. Elson, of Ohio University, will be issued in sixteen sections, each complete and known as

"The Civil War Through The Camera"

Each section of this wonderful work discloses a number of picturesque truths that history forgot to remember.

The idea that the armies fought in uniforms of blue and gray only is completely upset. Many of the leaders designed their own clothes—chose what pleased their own fancy for themselves and their men or by force of circumstances adopted any dress that supplied covering for their bodies. For instance—

Among the New Yorkers were Highlanders in plain "trews" (their kilts and bonnets properly left at home); the Blue Jackets of the 71st; the Gray Jackets of the 8th; the half-fledged Zouaves of the 14th N. Y., and full-rigged Zouaves, of the First "Fire" N. Y., who wore gray jackets and "knickers" with red shirts.

There were Rhode Islanders in pleated blouses;

Far Westerners from Wisconsin in fading gray;

Vermonters in gray, turned up with emerald as befitted the Green Mountain Boys;

The Garibaldi Guard, mainly Italians, appeared in a dress that aped the Bersaglieri;

The D'Epineul Zouaves, French, and would-be Frenchmen, in the costliest garments yet devised;

Still another French battalion in Algerian campaign rig; and

The Chasseurs, in a very attractive and natty dress, worn like the others until worn out in one real campaign, when its wearers lost their identity in the universal, most unbecoming, yet eminently serviceable blue-flannel blouse and light-blue kersey trousers, with the utterly ugly forage cap and stout brogans of the Union Army.

The Brady photographs taken among the Confederates also reveal that the "Johnnies" changed their uniforms of gray to one of butternut brown as the war went on.

A thousand books could not tell you as much or so vividly the price that was paid, or the type of men who paid the price, as do these photographs of Brady's.

North and South, this man Brady, the greatest of all photographers and his daring assistants, was constantly at work portraying everything vital to the great struggle.

They were on the battlefields, in the cities, in the homes. They mingled in the street crowds, they were on the gun boats, in the forts.

As a result, these priceless photographs, taken while the mighty struggle was on, show persons, events and conditions as no history has ever presented them. These remarkable pictures speak without bias, without prejudice—they speak the truth. In them you behold the humor, the tragedy and the stern reality of the four years' war, from the firing on Sumter to the surrender at Appomattox.

Every Patriotic American Home Should Have This Magnificent And Timely Collection.

It is a lesson in patriotism that the children will never forget, and for young and old it is a constant source of interest. Each of the sections is complete in itself, telling the story of some great battle—while the accompanying pictures, clear, distinct, beautifully printed, are marvelous, when we realize that they were taken on the battlefields of 50 years ago. Each scene or group is so clear and sharp, that often the veterans look unexpectedly into the faces of old-time comrades, or perhaps it is a father or a brother whom one can find just as they looked clad in the uniform of those heroic days.

YUAN WARNS BUYERS

FOREIGN PURCHASES OF CHINESE LANDS OR CONCESSIONS MUST BE O. K'D BY REPUBLICAN GOVERNMENT

PEKIN, Aug. 3.—President Yuan Shi Kai today ordered provincial authorities to warn foreign purchasers of Chinese lands, or concessions that no such transactions will be recognized unless approved by the central government.

Ever since the revolution began foreign traders and corporation representatives have been gobbling up bargains up-country from local headmen. President Yuan telegraphed his ministers abroad some time ago to notify the powers that such purchases were invalid, but this action failed to stop them.

Several very large American interests claim to have acquired rights by the method the president repudiates, and serious trouble is threatened from them. Oil fields in Szechwan province especially are involved.

BANK'S HEAD SETTLES

FAILURE OF COMPANIES PUTS INSTITUTION IN HOLE BUT OFFICERS TURN OVER THEIR PROPERTY

BOONE, Iowa, Aug. 3.—President W. B. Linn of the Pilot Mound bank is prostrated at home and has turned over all his property to make good overdrafts of $30,000 which have closed the doors of the bank. Depositors had over $50,000 in the institution and Vice president Alfred Lundblad has also turned over his personal property to help make the shortage good. The bank was a private institution. Directors of the concern and Attorney J. J. Snell of this place are examining the books of the bank and will issue a statement later today. Two construction companies had headquarters in Boone with a plant in Pilot Mound and it is supposed the bank became connected with them and suffered when they went into the hands of a receiver. There is no charge of irregularity on the part of anyone connected with the bank.

Displeased the Widow.

A Philadelphia traveling man, having gone upon that journey for which there is no return ticket, his many friends of the road consulted together as to the remembrance to be sent by them, and finally decided upon a design which was not only original, but which they considered peculiarly appropriate. They never could understand why the widow would not receive the beautiful suit case, made of white flowers, with the words, "His last trip," in purple violets, on one side.

It's all right to bury your past, but some one is sure to come along and dig it up again. A henpecked man crows when he is away from home.

GOES INSANE; SHOOT

MAN MORTALLY WOUNDS WOMAN AND HER HUSBAND WHEN HE SUDDENLY BECOMES CRAZED

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 3.—After having shot and mortally wounded a woman and seriously wounded a man, burned a hotel to the ground, and held the villagers at South Platte at bay for several hours, Mr. George Ballew, believed to have gone suddenly insane, is fleeing today closely pursued by a posse.

The police advised are that the shooting occurred in the South Platte hotel, a small summer resort, which is surrounded by small cottages and bungalow tents. Last evening Ballew walked into the dining room while the guests were dining. He carried a double-barreled shot gun and without warning shot Mrs. Walbeck, proprietor of the hotel. She fell mortally wounded and when her husband tried to interfere, Ballew wounded him also.

As the guests fled, Ballew set fire to the building.

THINK ATTELL CAN WIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—The friend of Abe Attell, erstwhile featherweight champion, declare he is back in his old time form and predict that he will beat Harlem Tommy Murphy when the two meet here this afternoon. Despite the fact that the Harlemitte will go into the ring with nearly ten pounds advantage in weight, the backers of Attell are confident.

Being Well Born.

The problem of being well born has appealed to philosophers and statesmen in all times. The Jews guarded the birthright in ways that are largely responsible for the virile strength of the race. The Spartans secured other qualities. Plato definitely worked out plans to secure right conditions of birth. The eugenic conscience of the Romans made them the rulers of the world.

HOUSE MONEY TRUST COMMITTEE ABANDONS PLAN COMPELLING SUBMISSION OF BANK STATEMENTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The house money trust investigating committee today practically abandoned its plan of compelling banks to submit detailed statements of their financial condition, in connection with the probe. All banks were requested to furnish this information three months ago. Some complied but the majority refused on the ground that congress had no authority to compel them to divulge business secrets. A resolution specifically granting congress this power is tied up in the senate.

POLITICS OUSTED HILL?

LONDON, Aug. 3.—On the publication of a story that Dr. David Jayne Hill, lost America's Berlin embassy because it was desired to clear the way for the ultimate appointment to the post of Larz Anderson, minister at Brussels and a more liberal campaign contributor than Dr. Hill, caused a flutter today in diplomatic circles at every capital in Europe.

Warts.

To destroy warts, make a strong solution of common washing soda and water. Bathe the warts with this for a minute or two, and let the soda dry on them; repeat the bathing several times a day until the warts disappear. Or rub them night and morning with a moistened piece of muriate of ammonia. They soften and dwindle away, leaving no white marks as follow their dispersion with lunar caustic.

Salmon Eat Herring.

Thousands of salmon have been caught in streams and examined and their stomachs and insides were empty. But it is not uncommon to catch them in the sea and find in them half a dozen herring. After the salmon has been in a river for a time the lining of the stomach becomes all drawn up and wrinkled. Just why the salmon avoids feeding in fresh water no one knows.

NEW YORK BULL MOOSE CHOOSE BROOKLYN WELFARE WORKER DELEGATE AT LARGE

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 3.—When the state convention of the progressive party assembled here today it was agreed to go the other states in the union who have elected women delegates to the Chicago convention "one better," and elect one of the "big four" and alternate from the gentler sex. Miss Mary E. Drier of Brooklyn, noted worker for women workers' welfare was named as the delegate and Miss Frances A. Keller of Albany, N. Y., an alternate at large.

The other delegates at large elected were Oscar S. Straus and Henry L. Stoddard of New York and Chauncey J. Hamlin of Buffalo. William H. Hotchkiss of Buffalo was chosen chairman. The convention was composed of the delegates and alternates from the congressional districts in the state who came here on a special train, elected their delegates at large and then proceeded to Chicago.

Wild Red Rice.

In Senegal red rice grows wild. The fields in which it grows are inundated regularly by the Senegal or by its affluents, and in measure as the tide rises the rice plant rises above the flood. The grain is very red and very dry and hard. It swells in the water and as it swells loses some of its rich color. It is very nourishing and requires no cultivation.—Harper's Weekly.

Different Uses.

"What does this mean, Sam?" said Judge Brown to the prisoner, producing two razors, one a safety, the other a straight back. "Lordy, Judge, don't you all know? Dat safety am fur shavin', sub, but de udder am fur social p'poses entirely, sub."—Judge.

All in Equal Position.

Anybody can get a steady living out of steady effort. The same clock that ticks off twenty hours for one man can't cheat his neighbor. The same laws of right and wrong, the same privilege to do and dare, are open to both.—Herbert Kaufman.

WOULD LET JUDGE GO

HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE NOT IN FAVOR OF PUSHING IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS AGAINST HANFORD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The house judiciary committee today voted formally to report to President Taft that it has no objection to his acceptance of Federal Judge Hanford's resignation. So far as the house is concerned, today's action practically closes the matter, unless President Taft forces a continuance of the impeachment proceedings by refusing to accept Hanford's resignation.

At a meeting of the judiciary committee today the sub-committee which conducted hearings in Seattle on the impeachment charges submitted its report. Chairman Graham urged that inasmuch as the only thing to be gained by pushing would be to debar him from the privilege of being appointed to public office, the wisest course would be to allow him to resign. It was pointed out that as Hanford is 64 years old, the possibility of his ever being appointed to public office again is remote.

OPPOSE TAFT'S OBJECTIONS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—With all of the items to which Taft objected in his message vetoing the measure, stricken out, the military appropriation bill was today reported to the senate. From the house bill was pruned the provision retiring General Leonard Wood, from the post of Chief of staff, the item for a commission to investigate abolition of army posts, and that reducing the size of the general staff. The measure carries $87,000,000.

A SERIOUS SITUATION IS DEVELOPED HERE

We cannot take seriously the threat said to have been made by a number of taxpayers to enjoin the proposed appropriation for repairing the La Crosse causeway. We do not know any of the gentlemen whose names are given as signers of the notice sent to the city council, but from the fact that they are La Crosse property owners we cannot conceive of them carrying out a program so fraught with disaster to their own community. Men sometimes, in the heat of displeasure over personal wrongs, father declarations which they would never carry out in cool deliberation, and we suspect that this is the case here.

Already the citizens of La Crosse and vicinity, discouraged of better traffic conditions, have started a bank. They make no secret of their proposal to follow this with other institutions that will compete with La Crosse for Houston county trade. They mean business. Were the plan to fix the road frustrated, they would consider it a slap in the face and would be spurred on to new activity.

Had the city authorities recognized the imminence of the danger that threatens, they would have seized with avidity the offer of Mr. Bryant to raise a suitable fund, and would have co-operated with him in the undertaking. In that event, instead of facing a fight over their belated plan to devote $5,000 of city money to the road, they would have had without cost to the taxpayers a highway the perfection of which will not even be approached by the ultimate achievement of their own endeavors.

If business judgment prevailed, the gentlemen would withdraw their notice, and the council would convene in special session to declare the wagon bridge free of toll for all time. La Crosse cannot afford to continue a policy which is already furnishing practical proofs that it is suicidal.

BUFFALO BILL SPENDS DAY WITH HIS FRIENDS

A pleasant incident of William F. Cody's visit to La Crosse was his reception here of old friends and his acquisition of new ones. It really seemed that the venerable plainsman put in a day of genuine delight.

Of course this first incident was a visit to the Drs. George and Will Powell, friends of the old days when the "Wild West Show" was put on with shotguns and death was the daily toll of daring. The Powell office was closed to patrons, and the train and other of our older citizens in memory traveled "The Road to Yesterday."

And at the afternoon performance "Buffalo Bill" was host to other old friends and to many new ones in whose memory will long dwell the entertaining hour with the chief scout of a past century who has "come through" the years and has adjusted himself to the life of today. They found a gentleman of pretty wit, royal courtesy and winsome joviality whose delight it was to discard business and place himself completely at their command.

THEN DON'T LET THE "DEAD LINE" GET YOU

The other day a successful editor remarked that the average man over 40 years was useless to the advancement of the world, too old to do things, too conservative to dare. Youth must have its way and it was the part of wisdom to trust youth's vigor rather than maturity's counsel.

There is much to be said on both sides of the question. One may remark that Alexander conquered the world before he was 30, but Napoleon was beaten by a man past 40 and Jackson was 45 at the battle of New Orleans. The fortunes of the southern arms were entrusted to Robert E. Lee, aged 54, and certainly no one will claim that any commander could have done better, while the northern armies failed again and again until Grant, who had turned 40, also turned the scale of victories. Joan of Arc died at 20, having done her work, but Mrs. Eddy was a failure at 50 and afterward founded a world's religion. If Chatterton died at 20 and Bryant wrote "Thanatopsis" at 19 and Poe's genius was complete under 40, still Longfellow published "Hiawatha" at 48, Tennyson published the "Idylls" at 49, Dante's "Divine Comedy" appeared at about his 50th year and Milton's "Paradise Lost" close to his 60th year.

Lincoln was near 50 at the time of the debates with Douglas, which can almost be said to have begun his career and John Brown was 59 when he led the raid which was to ransom a race. Peary was 53 when he reached the pole, and Columbus was 56 when he sighted the shores of America. Darwin at 50 barely got into the "Who's Who" of his day, but then came "The Origin of Species," and later "The Descent of Man" and Darwin's became the great name of the nineteenth century. Edison was 40 away back in 1887 and it can hardly be said that his work has waned since.

Jefferson was only 33 when he wrote the declaration, but certainly he cannot be said to have weakened much after 40, while Adams was 41, Morris was 42 and Franklin was 60 at the signing of the declaration of independence. Washington was 44 at the time. It was the youthful Hamilton who was the conservative at the making of the constitution, not the elders of the revolution.

But it is claimed that it is the new things which the man of 40 fails to attempt, that while Shakespeare and Wagner did their big things both before and after this imaginary "dead line," they were not equal to "starting something." This is only a way of saying that a man is apt to build upon the foundation he has laid, but yet DuMaurier, a lifelong cartoonist, turned author at 60 and wrote "Trilby." Michel Angelo turned his attention to engineering at 55 in order to fortify Florence, and at 70 took up a new branch of art successfully.

Tom Johnson though a phenomenally successful man at 40, did his great work and fought his great fight after that age, forsaking his early ambition and ideas. And now comes Woodrow Wilson, 56, whose entry into the husky fighting demanded by reform politics is within the memory of our primary school children.

Of course, in a certain way, the statement of the successful editor quoted above is true. The "average man" of 40 is incapable of doing big and new things, but so is the "average man" of 20. The moral is don't be an average man. But to the man who is capable and willing, gifted with ordinary common sense and grit, he need not settle back because he is 40. As a matter of fact, he is just getting able to do things.

TWO CONTESTS IN THE PRIMARY

The Tribune had not intended to take any part in the primary campaign, but certain conditions have arisen which impel us to take part in two contests for what we believe to be the good of the public service.

We shall support A. E. Bleekman for the republican nomination for district attorney.

Our first reason is that in the essential qualifications, maturity, experience and equipment for the position, he offers the public by all odds the better bargain for the money it will spend to maintain this important office. Nor do we hesitate to say that the enemies he has made in a certain civic struggle strongly recommend him.

Our second reason for preferring Mr. Bleekman is purely a party matter, but it is one of non-partisan concern to the extent that fair play is a public asset. Mr. Bleekman has for years been an active worker in the ranks of the republican party, having served it both in the capacity of chairman and secretary, as well as in all the minor party activities. As party men say, he is "in line" for the office, and as this is his first bid for recognition, it can hardly be gainsaid him gracefully.

The other candidate for whom we propose to go on record is Mr. Bert Vincent, who seeks the office of clerk of the court. We assume this position, not for hostility to the present incumbent, but because we believe it is widely appreciated that, owing to conditions which he is powerless to remedy, public necessity demands a change.

In Columbus, Ohio, the other day during a thunderstorm, lightning played a freak by turning on in the home of a family absent for the summer all the electric lights. Can you imagine the feelings of the head of that house when he returns in the fall and faces that light bill?

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Treasures
They got a brand new baby
At Bud Hicks' house, you see;
You'd think Bud Hicks had somethin'
Th' way he talks to me!
He comes around a-braggin',
An' when he wouldn't quit
I said, "What good's a baby?
You can't hunt fleas on it."

Then Bud turned to an' told me
How loud that kid could yell.
An' lots I can't remember,
He had so much to tell.
But I got tired o' hearin'
An' so I ast him, quick,
"If you wuz in a swimmin'
Could it go git a stick?"

There is no use a-talkin',
Bud thinks their baby's fine!
Huh! I'd a whole lot rather
Jest have a pup like mine.
I'll bet it's not baldheaded!
But, if Bud doesn't fail
To let me hear it yellin',
I'll let him pull Spot's tail!

Nothing Soft There

A woman called the attention of her husband to a little baby which was trying to sleep on the porch of its home on the opposite side of the street.

"It's lying on the bare boards, isn't it?" he observed.

"Yes, they haven't even placed a rug for the little chap to rest his head on."

The husband took another look.
"And what do you think of that," he ejaculated. "They haven't even painted the boards."

No Hope

H. C. Frick at a luncheon in New York, referred good humoredly to the lack of enterprise that caused certain men to oppose his generous offer to re-erect the Lenox Library building in Central Park.

"This world would not progress much," said Mr. Frick "if it contained many such men. These chaps remind me of the decaying summer resort of Seaview."

"A progressive fellow rented, very cheap, a moving picture theater in Seaview. He arrived at the resort the beginning of the season, and, on the evening of his arrival, he said to the proprietor of his boarding house:

"By the way, who ran this picture theater before me?"

"I don't exactly remember," said the proprietor, scratching his head; and he called to the clerk, "Bill, what was the name of that chap who suicided off the pier while the sheriff was sellin' him out last season?"

Simple Explanation

To illustrate a point that he was making—that his was the race with a future and not a race with a past—Booker T. Washington told this little story the other day.

He was standing by his door one morning when old Aunt Caroline went by.

"Good morning, Aunt Caroline," he said. "Where are you going this morning?"

"Lawzee, Mista' Washin'," she replied. "Ise done been wha Ise gwine."—Kansas City Star.

Moral Suasion

"I don't want oatmeal," screamed the kid.

"You must have oatmeal," said his father.

"Never force anything on a child like that," interrupted uncle, who has theories. "Always give the child his choice."

"All right," said father. "Now, kid, you can have oatmeal or you can have a clip on the jaw. Which is it?"

The child took the oatmeal.

Mandy's Reply

Mandy was a good looking young colored girl and had many admirers. Her mistress often lectured her on behaving with propriety. One evening the mistress, going into the kitchen, was surprised to find a strange darkey with his arm around Mandy's waist.

"Why, Mandy," said the mistress indignantly, "tell that man to take his arm from around your waist."

"Tell him yo'self," said Mandy, haughtily. "He's a puffed stranger to me."—Judge.

A Puzzler

The proprietor of a tanyard was anxious to fix a suitable sign to his premises. Finally a happy thought struck him. He bored a hole through the door post and stuck a calf's tail into it, with the tufted end outside.

After a while he saw a solemn faced man standing near the door looking at the sign. The tanner watched him a minute and then stepped out and addressed him.

"Good morning, sir," he said.

"Good morning," said the other, without taking his eyes off the sign.

"Do you want to buy leather?" asked the tanner.

"No."

"Perhaps you've got some hides to sell?"

"Are you a farmer?"

"No."

"What are you then?"

"I am a philosopher. I've been standing here for nearly an hour trying to find out how the calf got through that hole."—Life.

The MAN in the BROWN DERBY
by
WELLS HASTINGS
Author of
The Professors Mystery
Copyright, 1911, by Bobbs-Merrill Co.

Nancy was seated in this chair with her back turned almost squarely upon the window. The dress, in which I had last seen her had been replaced by a plain garment of striped gingham such as trained nurses wear, and which, I suppose, was an extra precaution against her escape, a modified form of prison dress. Some little rustle of the window shade, perhaps, made her turn her face toward the window, and I saw that she was pale and had been crying.

"Nancy," I whispered, "Nancy."

She sprang to her feet and stood looking about her, one slim hand raised fearfully to her heart. "Did somebody call?" she asked.

"Don't be frightened," I said. "It is I, Mason. Here at the window."

She crossed the room uncertainly, as if she had heard many voices of late, or had waited so anxiously to hear, that now she could not believe.

"You, Mason. You!" she whispered.

"Yes, I climbed up the ivy. I am here at the window. I have come to take you home again."

She knelt on the floor beside the window, and I raised the shade a little, so that now we looked into each other's eyes.

"My dear, my dear," I said, "are you well? Is everything all right here?"

Nancy drew a long, shuddering breath. "Oh, Mason, I am so glad you have come. I have been so worried about you. I was afraid—afraid they might have killed you."

"I don't think they would go quite so far as that," I laughed.

"I don't know, Mason," Nancy said very seriously. "They frighten me. They are capable of almost anything wicked, desperate or wrong, and I am afraid for you even now. It is mad of you to be clinging there with your face to the bright light. I am going to pull down the shade."

"Don't," I said. "The watchman won't be round again for ten minutes at least, and I want to see you."

"No," said Nancy. "It is too dangerous. I am going to pull it down. We can talk just as well from different sides of the curtain."

"But—" I protested.

"No," said Nancy firmly. "It has to be." Then with a little flush and so softly that I could scarcely hear the whisper, "Kiss me, dear."

She bent forward so that her face pressed close against the cruel, rusting bars of iron, the wondrous mystery of her beauty tenderly enfolding her. The dear, brave eyes looked into mine for an eternal instant, then fell as I bent and kissed her lips. The agonies of hell could not have frightened me then.

"You are coming with me now," I said, and stretched one hand to a bar of the iron grating, which bent in my hand.

Nancy caught my wrist with a quick, restraining little gesture. "No, Mason, not that way," she said. "It is too dangerous for you. Yes, too dangerous for both of us. I am going to pull down the shade, and you must talk to me quietly; for of course you can take me away, tomorrow, perhaps, and there is no immediate danger."

"No danger," I repeated; "why, Nancy, the place is horrible."

"Then you had better not look at it any more," said Nancy, and pulled down the shade. "Really, dear," she continued, "it is best for both of us. Even suppose that you could break these bars, and I almost think you could, Mason, you would have to carry me down the way you came, and it would be very hard for you to do, even if the ivy were strong enough to hold us. Can you hear me?"

"Yes," I answered, "and I suppose you are right." For the possibility of the ivy breaking under our combined weight, and of the fall for Nancy, cooled my flare of anger like a dash of cold water. "I will come around tomorrow morning, then, and get in on some pretext or other. Let them stop me if they can."

For a moment Nancy did not answer.

"Listen, dear," she said at length. "I do not know how it is going to be done. You must think of that, if possible, I want you to take me away from here quietly, to depend on your wit and not your strength. For these men here have everything at stake. This sanatorium has been running for a good many years now, so that I think that none of them would stop at murder itself to prevent open exposure. It is a very hazardous business, and it means prison for them if they are caught. They must have counted on that, Mason. I think they are protected by the town authorities here in some way, but I am very sure that, rather than fall into the hands of the state law, they would not hesitate to kill you. Dear heart, you must not risk all I have in the world because you are impatient for me."

She was speaking almost in a whisper; but through the soft, low tones of the voice I loved, sounded a new and vibrant quality, a new-found something as old as humanity itself, the gentle, omniscient wisdom of a woman to the man she loves. What man is there that must not bow to it, yet feel him self the more a man?

"You are right," I said. "I sup-

Lucy Louise Sandberg.

Although she has been offered a splendid position as juvenile court attorney for the Council of Jewish Women of Boston, Miss Lucy Louise Sandberg, a young woman lawyer of Washington has declined it, preferring to practice her profession in Washington. She is well known in Boston, where she practiced law for two years, but as she is actively engaged in the fight for votes for women, Miss Sandberg believes that she will advance better in her profession as well as be in a position to help suffrage by remaining at the national capital.

pose it is the savage in me that makes me want to fight, Nancy. But, after all, as long as I get you, the way does not so very much matter. You remember Mrs. Lathrop—do you not, where you spent the first night after—after they took you?"

"Very well," said Nancy. "Did she give you my note?"

"Yes, dear," I said; "she gave me the note, and yesterday she came to the Hotel Gloria and insisted on coming to help to find you. She thinks me a rather helpless individual, I am afraid, but I have a vague idea that she really can help us, Nancy. I do not know how, just at this moment, but perhaps—"

"Hush," said Nancy; "listen!"

"What is it?"

"I think they are coming, Mason—the doctors, you know. You must go at once and go carefully. Do you understand?"

I heard some one knock at the door.

"You are going, Mason?"

"As soon as I can," I said, "when the watchman's gone by."

Nancy's little hand flashed beneath the shade for a moment, and I kissed it. "Good night, dear," I said.

"Good night," Nancy whispered. The knock was repeated with loud insistence.

"Yes," Nancy called. "Come in." (To be Continued)

POPE MISTAKEN IN DEATH DATE

His Holiness' Belief He Would Die on Ninth Anniversary of Elevation Fails Today

ROME, Aug. 3.—Shattering the widely accepted belief, in which he himself shared, that he would not live to celebrate nine anniversaries of his elevation to the vatican throne Pope Pius X today completed the ninth year of his pontificate. The odd superstition that he would die before today was based on the manner in which his holiness' entire life has been divided into nine year periods. As plain Giuseppe Sarto, he was ordained a priest in 1858 and served as a curate for nine years. Then followed his promotion to the post of parish priest at Salzano, where he remained for nine years more. Next came nine years as chancellor of his diocese, nine as bishop of Tiantua and nine as cardinal and patriarch of Venice. Today his holiness was deluged with telegrams congratulating him on having survived the supposedly fatal period. In honor of his anniversary, the pope also received today a large number of cardinals, vatican officials, and personal friends. Pius' election took place August 4, 1903, but today completes the ninth year of his pontificate.

SWITCHMAN INJURED WHEN CLIMBING CAR

Carl auch, 308 Mill street, a C. M. & St. P. switchman, received painful injuries this morning when in swinging up to an engine in the North side yards he hit his knee against the switch stand and had his leg badly bruised. Mr. auch was at his duties as a switchman when the accident occurred, and after hitting his knee he was thrown against a box car. His knee was bruised so badly that Dr. F. C. Sutter was summoned and he removed Mr. auch to his home, where he was given medical attention. Although it is expected that he will be laid up for some time, his injuries will not be serious.

CROSSINGS MUST BE KEPT CLEAR

Bulletin Warns Railroad Men Not to Leave Cars Encroaching on Crossings

A bulletin sent to the various stations of the C. M. & St. P. railroad by F. M. Melin, superintendent of the La Crosse division, calls attention to the fact that instructions have formerly been issued to the effect that when trains are cut to open a crossing for a road that the cars must be left from twenty to thirty feet from the crossing. This bulletin calls the attention of conductors and engineers to this matter and states that the company had a serious crossing accident lately because a car was left standing on a side track encroaching on the crossing. In the event that trains are cut to open crossings, attempts should not be made to couple up until the man stationed at the crossing has warned pedestrians and teams of the move to be made before the coupling is made.

It is not known here where the crossing accident referred to happened but all the instructions included in the bulletin have been strictly followed in La Crosse.

MRS. GRACE SET FREE BY JURY

Woman Acquitted on the Charge of Attempting to Kill Her Husband to Get Insurance

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 3.—"God bless you, gentlemen," cried Mrs. Daisy Ulrich Opie Grace at 4:40 yesterday afternoon when the jury found her not guilty of the charge of shooting her husband. She seemed on the verge of collapse, but her lawyers urged her to restrain herself and she soon became calm. Then the crowd in court cheered the verdict and surged about Mrs. Grace, many of the women weeping.

Followed by a cheering throng, Mrs. Grace left the court room and went to the offices of her attorneys. There she received a telegram from her sister in Philadelphia to the effect that Mrs. Grace's little blind son is ill.

The verdict was generally expected. It is conceded that the state failed to sustain the charge that Mrs. Grace had drugged and shot her husband and locked him in to die in order to get $25,000 insurance on his life. Mrs. Grace's statement had tremendous effect on the jury.

NEWMAN, Ga., Aug. 3.—Lying helpless from paralysis, but with anger so great that he strove to twist his helpless body, Eugene H. Grace today bitterly denounced the verdict that acquitted his wife of the charge of attempting to murder him. "They might as well put dynamite under the court house now," he declared, his eyes flashing. "I don't see how they could have acquitted her. She's as guilty as hell."

AGRICULTURISTS ATTEND PICNIC

A large number of the students attending the La Crosse County Agricultural school went in launches yesterday to Dresden park, where all had a fine time, the day being spent in playing baseball, rowing and in having a good outing.

One of the best baseball games played was that between the Norwegians and the Germans, the people from the land of King Haakon winning the combat by a score of 7 to 5. The teams lined up as follows:

The Germans declare that the reason the Norwegians won was that two Germans were in their lineup. The girls also played a good game but the scores were not kept because the supply of score books was not large enough.

All those at the picnic departed for their homes hoping that this event will be made an annual affair.

DRY GOODS PRICES TAKE A JUMP

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Retail dry goods prices are higher here today and the prediction is made by the leading retail stores that still further advances may be expected soon. Staple prints were selling today at an advance of 1/4 cent a yard. The reason assigned to the advance is the increased cost of raw materials. In a statement to the retail trade, one of the largest local dry goods houses today said the advance in raw cotton and wool and the curtailment of manufacture during the last few months would cause a scarcity of the finished product before the fall season is far advanced. The excellent condition of crops in the west is given as the cause of the large demand for dry goods there.

FORMER LA CROSSE GIRL IS MARRIED

Friends in La Crosse have received word that Miss Hazel Volner, formerly of this city, was married in Superior to Theodore Gardner. Miss Volner lived in La Crosse for some time previous to going to Superior. Superior newspapers describe the wedding as follows:

"Miss Hazel Volner of the Grand Opera house and Theodore Gardner, director of the Broadway theater orchestra, were united in marriage at 5 o'clock. The wedding ceremony took place at the rectory of the St. Alban's Episcopal church, Rev. Father Smith officiating.

"The couple were attended by Mrs. Charles McDonald of this city and Joseph Bernstein of Chicago. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Volner of Duluth. Mrs. Gardner has been associated with the staff of the Grand theater for several seasons and is at present manager of the playhouse.

"Mr. Gardner has been connected with the Broadway orchestra for a number of weeks, coming from Chicago and Iowa. He recently took charge of the vaudeville house orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Gardner will make their home at the Hotel Superior.

"A pretty romance is culminated in marriage. Although the engagement was known by a circle of intimate friends the wedding date was not announced and the celebration of the nuptials came as a pleasant surprise. Mrs. Gardner is well known and highly popular in both Superior and Duluth. Although here but a short time Mr. Gardner has a large circle of friends."

It's often a waste of time to tell a man anything for his own good.

LYING HELPLESS ON HIS COT IN ATLANTA COURTROOM GRACE LISTENS TO TESTIMONY AND LONGS FOR WIFE'S CONVICTION

Carrying Grace on stretcher from ambulance to Court House.

Lying helpless on his cot in an Atlanta courtroom, Eugene Grace, whose wife is on trial for attempting to murder him, listened to the testimony and longed for his wife's conviction. Grace claims that his wife shot him last March to secure $25,000 in insurance. His wife testified that he shot himself after a family quarrel.

Grace, so far as appearances go, might be a man in normal health. His cheeks have a good color, his eyes are clear, he speaks in rational tones—and his hands, though thin and bony, haven't the appearance of before he was shot. Below that he is paralyzed.

Riches of Malay Peninsula.
One of the richest countries in the world is that part of the Malay peninsula known as the Federated States. These provinces are still under the rule of their native chiefs or sultans, though they are assisted by a British adviser. The tin mines of these small states are more valuable than most gold mines, for they produce nearly half the world's supply of tin, and the result is an overflowing treasury for the states. Vast forests of rubber trees are also proving extremely profitable.

Quick Decision.
"Hub!" snarled the railroad editor. "Here's a story that in one place calls a man Bridge and in another place refers to him as Bridge. What do you think of that?" "Merely a question of you or I," remarked the statesman, smilingly. And the railroad editor, who was inclined to egotism, decided in favor of "Bridge."

Generally.
Visitor—"How do you get along with your rival town, Bunzville?" Native—"Same as all rival towns do. The Civic League in each town works from October to April promoting friendly relations between the two towns, and the first baseball game we play them undoes it."

Chin Vegetal.
Vegetable fibre, or chin vegetal, is made from leaves of a dwarf palm (Chamaerops humilis), which clings to the soil tenaciously. Its presence was a serious obstacle to the pioneers of Algerian colonization, and it had to be fought foot by foot. It was not then known that the plant would become a source of wealth to the colony and that it would be more and more sought as a commercial product.

GIRL WRITES BOOK WITH HER FEET

ST. AUL, Aug. 3.—Three years ago a little girl—she's 24 years old, but small—at 268 Eighth avenue, started to write a book. She labored at it many hours a day, changing and revising it. Recently it came from the press, a neat volume of 175 pages—and she is happy.

There's nothing extraordinary in a girl writing a book; but this particular case is far out of the ordinary. This girl has never been in a school room. She has never had a private lesson. Never has she been able to run about and play like other girls. Three months after she was born she was stricken with spinal meningitis, and her body never grew like that of other children. Grown to young womanhood now, she is strong beyond belief, mentally, but she cannot use her hands.

Every word of the book was written on a typewriter by the use of one foot. Holding a pencil between her toes, the girl clicked off the thousands of words, striking the keyboard with the pencil, and paying little attention to fatigue. Three times did she rewrite the entire manuscript before she was satisfied.

FATHER SPANKS SON; SON SPANKS FATHER

Kehsler, Sr., is more than 50 years old. The father immediately swore out a warrant for the arrest of his son on a charge of assault, but when the two met in the sheriff's office the parent was persuaded to drop the charge.

CHANGE COURSE OF CUP RACES

Milwaukee Planning Better Site for Road Runs Than at Elgin or Savannah

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 3.—The road course over which the Vanderbilt cup and Grand Prix automobile races will be run here in September has been changed, it became known today. A large force of men are today at work on a new course in Wauwatosa township, which is more adjacent to the city proper and more suitable from many points of view than the original Greenfield township course, which will now be abandoned.

The new course will cover a distance of 8.2 miles and engineers agree that a surface will be provided far in advance of the Elgin course, or the Savannah, Ga., roadway, the latter being the original Vanderbilt Cup track. Special road surface material is being applied to the macadam type of roadbed and the work is being rushed. Dangerous turns on this course are also avoided, according to the engineers.

The grade problem afforded the principle objection to the original course planned in Greenfield township. Heavy cuts and fills were required and contractors were not to be found who would agree to complete the grade work sufficiently early to permit completion of the surface work in time for the races.

The new route lies in one of the city's most attractive and accessible boundary districts.

MISS FOLA LA FOLLETTE AND MISS ZONA GALE TALK

"Did you go to the lecture last evening?" seemed to be the popular salutation on the streets this morning. It is not often, if ever before, that the people of La Crosse ever had the opportunity to listen to such talented and brilliant women as Miss Fola La Follette and Miss Zona Gale, who spoke here last evening at the theater in the cause of equal suffrage. It was a genuine treat and those who were not fortunate enough to attend, missed a great deal. The house was packed. Miss La Follette held the audience spell bound during her short talk. She is a delightful speaker and understands her subject fully. Miss Zona Gale gave a reading which was much enjoyed and appreciated. The Boys' Glee club sang several numbers which gave life and spirit to the occasion. Howard Jones presided at the piano.

A number of Sparta people, acquaintances of Miss La Follette were present. It was to be regretted that Miss La Follette and Miss Gale were obliged, on account of other engagements, to leave the city so soon as many would have been pleased to meet them socially.

Beauty of the Drama.

I think I love and reverence all arts equally, only putting my own just above the others; because in it I recognize the union and culmination of my own. To me it seems as if when God conceived the world, that was poetry; he formed it, and that was Scripture; he colored it, and that was painting; he peopled it with living beings, and that was the grand, divine, eternal drama.—Charlotte Cushman.

Pedestrians.

A teacher in a primary school was endeavoring to make clear to her class the meaning of the words "equestrianism" and "pedestrianism" when she put this query to one small boy: "What is a pedestrian?" "He is one of those fellows," said the boy, "who makes an awful kick when an automobile runs him down."

Judging By the Effect.

She—What was it the choir just sang? He—From the appearance of the congregation, I think it must have been some kind of a lullaby.—Laughter.

SECRET IN WILSON TRIP TO GOTHAM

Reason for Governor's Visit to New York Is Refused by the Nominee Today

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 3.—Mystery today still surrounds the visit Governor Wilson is to make tonight to New York. The presidential candidate still insisted that the only person he will see in the metropolis will be National Chairman McCombs and that all that they will discuss will be plans of campaign. Just why it should be necessary for a presidential candidate to go to see his manager instead of the manager coming to see him was a question that was troubling many of those here, but the governor declined to explain. He insisted, however, that the reports of serious frictions having started in the campaign committee recently appointed were unfounded. The governor said that the only delay in selecting the treasurer and other officials has been necessitated by the size of the job at hand. He said that he hoped definite decisions would be reached during his conference with McCombs and stated that he will not return to Sea Girt until late Sunday night or Monday morning.

The governor today refused to say where in New York he will meet McCombs. After the conference, he said, he will seek seclusion for the week end rest he deems necessary so that he may keep up his strength for the strain of the campaign.

The governor received a present of a box of peaches from a Kansas admirer today. The box was labeled "Next President, Sea Girt," and admirers who handled it along the line penciled their sentiments on the case.

Both excursions will be held Wednesday, Aug. 7.

WOOL BILL PUT THROUGH HOUSE

Progressives Combine with Democrats and Push Conference Measure to Passage

SENATE DROPS AMENDMENTS

All "Riders" to Metal Tariff Including Reciprocity Repeal Receded
from

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—By a vote of 160 to 62 the house today adopted the conference report on the La Follette wool bill, 24 insurgent republicans voting with the democrats in its favor. Representative Payne, New York, declared that President Taft would veto the bill when it was presented to him for his signature.

Majority Leader Underwood declared the people had a right to expect that the president would sign the measure. Basing his argument on the report of the tariff board, Underwood said the bill would give manufacturers a reasonable amount of protection.

The bill represents an average reduction in existing duties of 29 per cent and is practically similar to the measure President Taft vetoed last summer.

The progressive republican-democratic alliance members of the senate by a vote of 33 to 28 carried a motion to recede from all senate amendments to the metal tariff measure. One of these changes was the repeal of reciprocity with Canada, which the senate had previously adopted overwhelmingly.

The vote practically makes certain the sending of the revision bill to the White House.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina said republican senators had informed him that President Taft "had already notified steel manufacturers that he would veto the bill," but Senator Gronna insisted that he had good ground for the belief that Taft would sign either the metal or the excise tax bill.

VARSITY CAPTAIN SAVES MAN'S LIFE

Frank Hood, Madison, was saved from death in the river at Riverside camp Monday evening, when he was pulled from the water after succumbing to the current by his brother-in-law, Reuben Trane, 1910 captain of the Wisconsin university crew.

Mr. Hood, who is a good swimmer, attempted to breast the current at an opening in the dam where the water runs swiftly, but was overcome. He had disappeared from view when his brother-in-law plunged after him. Mr. Trane succeeded in finding him and dragged him to shore, where he was found to be already unconscious and bleeding from the nose.

Miss Amanda Clement, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who with her flock was in the water nearby, brought into use her knowledge of first aid to the injured, and after several minutes succeeded in resuscitating him.

Mr. Hood, with Mr. Harold Letcher, Madison, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Trane at their cottage at Riverside camp.

TAFT HELPS CLERK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—President Taft set his seal on the anti-race suicide policy of his predecessor today when he broke all precedent to suspend civil service rules and promote Richard T. Underwood, the father of ten children. Underwood's fight to make ends meet in these days of high cost of living supporting a family of twelve on his messenger's salary of $720 a year, was called to Taft's attention by Postmaster General Hitchcock. The president issued an executive order, suspending the civil service rules, to promote Underwood to a clerkship at $900 in the postoffice department.

FARMER CLOSES GOTHAM JOINTS

State Commissioner of Excise Forces Stop in Sale of Drinks in White
Way Cafes

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The entire white light district was in dark mourning today. The city is to be reformed, and reformed forthwith, and the state commissioners of excise and his assistants are to be the reformers.

At 1 o'clock this morning everyone of the hundreds of all night cafes and restaurants were running full blast. At that hour W. W. Farley, an up state "farmer" who holds the appointment as head of excise department, entered an automobile accompanied by his chief deputy and his legal staff. He made the rounds of every place that was running and directed that the bars be closed. The proprietors demurred. They would not stand for dictation by a "farmer" but Farley simply had one of his legal assistants read the law making it plain that if drinks were sold after hours licenses would be forfeited. And under the law if forfeited they could not be renewed on the same premises for a year.

The places visited were not the ordinary barrooms, but the big fashionable restaurants. All were told that unless they got all night licenses there would be nothing doing. Most of their patrons left when told they could have all they wanted to eat but nothing to drink.

The commissioner declared today that he intends that the excise law shall be enforced to the letter everywhere in this state from now on. He said he would mass most of his force of inspectors in this city tomorrow to see that the city is kept dry on Sunday.

He was searching for him, and that arrangements for the visit were made by Lieut. Becker, was being investigated today. According to the story of Rose, Becker, although the general police alarm for Rose's arrest had been sent out and he knew about it, not alone arranged for the visit but formulated a code of signals for Hart's admission to the house.

According to George Considine, proprietor of the Metropole hotel, he has instructed his lawyer to bring suit against "Bridge" Weber, one of the gamblers who confessed arranging for Rosenthal's murder. Mr. Considine says his hotel has been damaged $100,000 by the unpleasant notoriety secured through the killing of Rosenthal and he bases his suit for that amount on Weber's confession. Weber is said to be wealthy.

1,500 Sports Leave
It was estimated today by sporting men familiar with the city that more than 1,500 gamblers and hangers-on about gambling houses fled from the city to avoid being subpoenaed to tell what they know about the situation here. Many have gone to Canada to follow the races, and others have gone to the South Jersey sea coast resorts.

Deputy Commissioner Dougherty today was notified of the arrest in Auburn, N. Y., Corning, Camden, N. J., and Newark, N. J., of men variously suspected of being "Lefty Louie" and "Gyp the Blood." The Auburn prisoner later was released and the commissioner set about investigating the other three suspects.

DENIES TAFT'S CHARGES

SHERMAN, Texas, Aug. 3.—In a public reply to the White House statement regarding President Taft's renomination, Colonel Cecil A. Lyon, republican state chairman, denied today that he had controlled the state convention by obtaining proxies from federal officeholders permitting him or his friends to cast their votes.

VOTE IS 10 TO 1 FAVORING STRIKE

Chicago Elevated and Surface Carmen Strongly in Support of War if Refused Demands

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—A total of 10,600 employees of Chicago's elevated and surface lines voted upon the question of calling a strike, according to estimates by union leaders when the last vote was recorded at 4 this morning. The vote was about 10 to 1 in favor of the strike, the leaders said. The official result will be made known at noon today.

The union men will seek another conference with the company officials after the vote is announced, and failing to obtain the wage concessions which they demand, they declared today that a strike of 14,000 men and a tieup of all of Chicago's electric transportation lines will follow. In addition to the car men employed in the city members of the union employed on the country traction lines said today that they would join in the strike if it was called and all the electric lines to the suburbs in Cook county will be tied up.

T. R. FORCED DILLON OUT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—E. G. Dillon withdrew as republican candidate for governor of Ohio, in the face of a Roosevelt ultimatum that he declare himself for the colonel or fight a third state ticket. This was the information contained in a letter from Dillon to L. C. Laylin, the Ohio republican leader, made public here today.

ELECTION LAW DRASTIC

BURLESON'S PROPOSED BILL
WOULD PROHIBIT ALL COR-PORATIONS FROM CAM-PAIGN CONTRIBUTING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—A drastic corrupt practices account was reported to the senate today by the privileges and elections committee. The measure follows the suggestions of Senator Burleson of Texas and makes it unlawful for national banks, "or any other corporation organized by authority," to contribute, "any money or other thing of value in connection with any convention, primary or other election." Another section makes it unlawful for any individual to contribute money or other things of value exceeding $5,000 in any election, but excepts the candidates themselves.

COMMITTEE ARGUES LA CRESCENT AFFAIR

The petition presented by North side property owners at the last meeting of the city council, protesting against the appropriation of money for the improvement of the La Crescent highway, was discussed by members of the bridge committee and the city attorney at a meeting held last night, but no definite conclusion was reached relative to the action to be taken. It was finally decided to refer the matter back to the council without recommendation.

GIRL BURNED WHEN DRESS CATCHES FIRE

Irene McMahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip McMahan, of 1235 Market street, was burned painfully about the lower limbs and arms yesterday evening, when her clothing took fire from a gas stove. The girl was taking a pie from the stove at the time. She rushed from the house and rolled upon the grass in the yard, extinguishing the flames. Dr. Marquardt was called to dress the burns. He said today that the girl was not seriously burned and would recover.

OSCAR DON'T LIKE LONDON

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Oscar Hammerstein, impresario, arrived here today for a month's visit. He was disguised to the extent of having a new hat, "I would rather be dead here than alive in London," he said, "but unfortunately I own an opera house over there and shall soon return."

Theodore Arenz Tabulates
School Population in Alphabetical Form; More
Girls Than Boys

Of the 30,410 persons in La Crosse, 9,755 or nearly one-third will attend school at the opening of the fall semester according to the school census of 1912 which was completed today by L. L. Brown, supervisor of census. This means the city will receive $25,363 in state aid for school purposes this year. The school population has increased 77 over the last year.

The census of 1911 shows that 9,678 children attended school while the census by wards of the last semester shows that but 9,448 attended, but this loss is offset by 307 children who will enter this fall as shown by the school rolls and not on the census list, bringing the total to 9,755. The school census board is composed of L. L. Brown, Professor L. P. Benezet and Theodore Arenz.

Mr. Arenz is indexing the school population in alphabetical order and expects to finish the work in a few days. The report shows that the female pupils outnumber the males by 126. In all but five wards, the female students are the most numerous. The census by wards is as follows:

PAY FOR FIFTH STREET WORK

Engage Attorney to Fight
Order in Spite of the Fact that Contract
Is Let

An injunction will be served to prohibit the laying of sewers on the Mormon Coulee road between Eighth and Fifth streets, despite the fact that the contract has already been let, according to Former Alderman C. F. Lang. Mr. Lang is one of one of twenty property holders with frontage on the Mormon Coulee road between Fifth and Eighth streets who have laid the case before Attorney A. C. Wolfe, and engaged him to represent them in the injunction proceedings.

According to the objecting property owners, they have been assessed higher than the actual work will cost. They also claim that some reduction should be made for triangular lots. The contract for the laying of sewers on Mormon Coulee road between Eighth and Fifth streets and on Fifth street from Mormon Coulee road to Mississippi street was recently let to Contractor Olaf Swennes for $7,000. The work on both streets was let as one job.

According to the property holders, the actual work of laying sewers will cost about fifty-five cents per foot on Mormon Coulee road and they claim to have been assessed about seventy-five. The work on Fifth street will cost over $1 per foot but the board of public works has given a like assessment to property owners on both streets. Thus the property owners on the Mormon Coulee road are paying for part of the work on Fifth street.

James Day, president of the board of public works, explained this today by saying, "The Fifth street sewer pipe will have to be larger than the Mormon Coulee pipe as the sewage from the Mormon Coulee road will have to pass through the Fifth street sewer to reach the river. That is why the Fifth street sewer is the most expensive. If it were not for the Mormon Coulee road sewer, a smaller pipe could be placed on Fifth street but in order to accommodate the Mormon Coulee road property owners larger pipe must be used and it would be unfair to make the Fifth street property owners pay for the benefits derived by the Mormon Coulee road property owners."

Attorney Wolfe today said that he has not gone fully into the matter as yet but will do so in a few days and will take whatever action he deems advisable.

"I don't want to be a thief," said Howard, who is the son of a minister and until an accident ten years ago, had an excellent reputation.

"I want to be honest. But when the spell comes on I have to steal."

Judge Landis Grants Per-

Against "Boiler-

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—A permanent injunction was granted by Federal Judge Landis restraining as a trust in violation of the Sherman law, the Central West Publishing company, incorporated in Maine, the Western Newspaper Union of Illinois, the American Press association of New York, and the same corporation in West Virginia. The action was taken upon a petition by District Attorney Wilkerson acting for Attorney General Wickersham.

The defendant companies, through their attorneys, assented to the injunction, and without admitting that they had been violating the anti-trust law, said they would not violate it in the future.

According to Wilkerson's petition, practically all of the 16,000 small newspapers of the country use the plate matter and ready-printed papers sold by the companies and it is read in 12,000,000 homes, reaching nearly two-thirds of the entire population of the United States.

cupied in her home, but under changing conditions, her work has been taken up by big corporations and big business interests. She must follow her work. Children worked at mother's knee in grandmother's day, but we never heard of child labor problems in those days. Their work was good for them, but now they work in factories, shops and mines and new problems have sprung up. Woman as the natural guardian of the child should have a voice in his protection in his new surroundings.

"Women do not undertake the drudgery of the shops and factories from choice. They go there to make a living and they should have a voice in the making of the laws governing their working conditions. Give the women the vote as a means of protection not only for themselves in groups but for the whole nation. The menace of sweatshops extends all through the nation. Disease is spread among all classes through the products of these creations of modern industry."

Indirect Influence Worthless

"They tell us that we can get what we want by indirect influence. I tell you the only influence that is worth while is direct power. The shillalah of the ballot held over the head of the legislator will do more in a minute than the wheedling of all the wives and sisters of the nation in a year. "We are often asked whether we think women are capable of holding office. I just want to ask you in closing whether you think Jane Addams would make as good a United States senator as William Lorimer?"

Miss La Follette answered several questions before closing the meeting which were sent to her from various parts of the audience.

FEUD TAKES ANOTHER

EUROPA, Miss., Aug. 3.—Another chapter was added to the feud arising from the killing of Miss Janie Sharp at Louisville in July 1910, when Walter Permenter was shot to death here early today while standing on the back porch at the home of his brother-in-law, J. Sheweate. The slain man is a brother of Swinton Permenter, who was convicted of slaying the Sharp girl, and is now awaiting a second trial, which is to start Monday.

Walter Permenter is the second victim to be murdered since Miss Sharp was killed. Detective Walker, who claimed to have evidence against another man mentioned in the case, who was shot to death while sitting in his home several months ago.

Provisional Credentials
Committee Takes Up the Question of Negro
Delegates at Meet

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—A meeting behind closed doors started early this afternoon and was held up at the time of the public meeting of the provisional committee on credentials of the national progressive party at two o'clock. At the secret meeting a representative of every state told the committee of the progress of prospects in his own locality. All the reports prophesied the election of Col. Roosevelt.

The second gathering of the committee was for the purpose of disposing of all contests for seats in the convention. The question of representation in the convention of district by negro delegates will be settled by the committee this afternoon. It was predicted that all the demands for seats by southern negroes would be voted down.

Henry F. Cochems, of Wisconsin, told the provisional committee that no organization of the Roosevelt followers in Wisconsin would be attempted until after the national convention. After that, he said, the state would be thoroughly canvassed for Roosevelt support and an organization effected.

WEEK FINANCIAL

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The usual midsummer Saturday atmosphere prevailed on today's stock market. A few advances, ranging as high as 1/2 or one point were mostly lost before the close, and the market ended with trifling and irregular changes from yesterday. A sharp decline in Reading stock in the second hour was chief incident of the day.

Regarded from a calm and judicial point of view, there ought to be nothing especially surprising in the cheerful opinions which have prevailed this week concerning the general outlook, except the fact that the cheerful people should seem to believe that they had made a discovery. The general drift of affairs in the direction of better things has been plainly enough evidence since the beginning of the year. It was recognized by the experienced observer in the early months of 1912, that a very thorough process of liquidation and readjustment had been carried out in this country, that business had been brought to a sound and conservative basis, that our position in international finance had become that of creditor rather than debtor, that while we had abandoned a mass of extravagant and fantastic ideas which had been leading our markets into trouble, and that we were in a position to get the benefit of any really favorable turn in our commerce and agriculture which might fall to our lot.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The weekly actual bank statement today showed the following changes:
Loans, decrease $ 2,764,000
Legals, decrease 647,000
Loans, total 2,040,071,000

NELSONS TO PLAY CASHTON TEAM

The Nelson Clothing Company baseball team leaves tomorrow morning for Cashton, where they meet the fast nine representing that town in the afternoon in a game which promises to be fast and interesting. Although the locals realize that they will have to put up their best game to beat the fast Cashton aggregation, they are determined to win and so add another victory to their long list. The Nelsons have been playing a wonderful game of late and with their team playing up to the standard they have been maintaining all season the locals should be able to win from their opponents.

A Double Tragedy

The elimination of the republican party in Louisiana because under the state law it didn't cast enough votes at a late election to entitle it to a place on the official ballot reminded Senator John Sharp Williams of a man in Mississippi who ran for congress in a Mississippi district on the republican ticket. He received two votes at the general election. "Rather humiliating, wasn't it?" put in a bystander. "Oh," replied the senator, "that wasn't the worst of it. They arrested him for repeating."—Saturday Evening Post.

WAUKON, IOWA.

Mr. Isaac Mickey, an old soldier, has heard the call of the Great Commander, Death, and like a true soldier obeyed the call without a murmur. He has been ill for some time. His daughter Lettie and son Fred and wife cared for him during his illness. A stepson and daughter, Herman and Ella Johnson, also live here. The funeral was held Friday under the auspices of the G. A. R. A little girl came Sunday to live with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sherman in Ludlow.

Mrs. John Hunt and son are visiting with her father, Mr. R. A. Eaton. Camping parties and picnics are all the fashion at present. Mrs. Thomas Hartley is chaperoning a party at McGregor Heights. In the party are her three daughters, Eunice, Ardis and Lillian, Lucile

Eaton, Agnes Kolsrud, Hazel and Jennie Coon, Irene and Gertrude Ney. Mrs. Wildman is chaperoning another party down near Village Creek. Her daughter June, Bessie Goodykuntz, Marguerite Barthell, Elizabeth Lewis and Olga Gunderson, who is visiting here from Ridgeway, Iowa, compose the party. Mr. and Mrs. Horace A. Howe and daughter Ruth are at Lansing on a houseboat with Mr. Ben Thomas and family. Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Sailwell, Jr. and two sons are at the club house at Waukon Junction camping and fishing. Misses Bertha Beeman, Theo Smith and Hazel Stillman went to Vermillion Lake, N. D., for a three weeks' camp. Mrs. J. C. Lewis and Miss Gertrude Bryant picnicked with their Sunday school classes at Pettit's Spring on Monday. Mrs. M. J. Barthell entertained

Thursday at luncheon with Miss Mary Bowen as guest of honor. Miss Bowen has just returned from her year's work at Bellingham, Wash., where she teaches German and English in the state normal. Miss Belle Ratcliffe has gone to Aitkin, Minn., to visit her brother, Dr. J. J. Ratcliffe. Mrs. M. S. Howard entertained a company of ladies at six o'clock dinner on Saturday. Mr. John Ward was visiting over a day or two this week while near here on a business trip. Miss Catherine Dougherty returned Saturday from a visit at Northwood and Nora Springs. Misses Jessie Lewis and Ethel Smith returned Friday, from the summer school at Cedar Falls. There were 1,400 enrolled, the largest summer attendance they have had. Mr. E. B. Gibbs and Glen Carpenter are experimenting with a "wireless." We are sorry to chronicle the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Dipping from our midst. Mr. Dipping's failing health compelled them to give up the Allamakee hotel. We shall miss "Dips" unfailing good humor and cheerful accommodations. Mrs. Dipping was a pleasant factor in our town socially, was a leader in the Royal Neighbors and a member of the O. E. S. The Royal Neighbors held a soiree at R. A. Eaton's as a farewell to Mrs. Dipping and presented her with a set of spoons to remind her of her Waukon friends. Mr. A. M. Smith and family came up from Stockton, Ill., by auto for a visit with his father, Jackson Smith, and other relatives. Miss Alice E. Duffy, who is principal of the school at Marion, and who has been at Ames taking work in domestic science, is visiting her friend, Mrs. S. H. Eddy. Jay Eaton, eldest son of R. A. Eaton, was married last Monday to Miss Nellie Saveaqua at Dickinson, N. D. They will reside there, where they both have claims.

Wanted Relief.

In one of the West Philadelphia hospitals a woman patient in the ward was groaning with pain. At last she called to the nurse: "O nurse, I am suffering so much; I can't stand it. Won't you please give me an epidemic?"

A Success.

"Was your chafing dish party a success?" "Great! We spoiled all the food early in the evening, and then went to a regular restaurant."

Natural Thought.

Eve—If I were to die would you marry again? Adam—How many ribs do you suppose a fellow can lose without coming to pieces?

Their Reward.

"I wonder what the twinkling stars really are," said little Eva. "Oh, I guess they are good little night lamps that have died and gone to heaven," little Olga replied.

CRUSHED TO DEATH BY HEAVY ELEVATOR

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 3.—An attempt to board a moving freight elevator at the plant of the Wallace Smith company late Friday afternoon resulted in the death of Joseph Suhr, 28 years old.

Suhr, who had been at work for the company for the last two months, had come to Milwaukee from Menominee, Mich., and secured employment with the Wallace Smith company as operator of the elevator. Workmen on the fourth floor heard his cries and rushed to where he lay on the floor of the car, with his body pinned between it and the ceiling of the fourth floor. They rescued the injured man and took him to the Emergency hospital, where he died.

It is thought that Suhr slipped after starting the car and was caught and crushed to death.

A small Italian boy, after due attendance upon the public school, asked his teacher if he might not change his name and have, instead of his true patronymic, "a Merican name." "What name would you like?" asked the teacher. Proudly the lad produced a scrap of paper on which was written—"Patrick Dennis McCarthy."

Help From an Unexpected Quarter

The distracted republic of Portugal is getting help from an unexpected direction. In danger from royalists and its neighbor, Spain, more or less hostile, Brazil, which it founded, is coming to its assistance. About 50 years ago there sprang into existence in Brazil a Protestant movement confined exclusively to Portuguese residents in that country. Its struggles to maintain itself in Brazil were severe, but it made progress slowly, and when the monarchy in Portugal was overthrown, these Portuguese in Brazil at once formed a missionary society to help the home land.

Five workers are maintained by them in Portugal. These five have just been able to form another missionary society in Portugal itself, with headquarters at Oporto, and together the societies, one Brazil and the other Portugal, have just launched an industrial campaign, designed to educate the poor toward self support. They have also organized a mission band, with tents, which is visiting the fairs of North Portugal, a unique institution, held not so much for education and amusement as to give opportunity for country people to buy supplies of goods direct from Lisbon and Oporto manufacturers. These fairs have some recreative side, and the mission band is making the most of it.

July Summer Conferences

Reports from the Summer Conferences in July are, with a few notable exceptions, that attendance is poor and interest slack. Strictly educational classes, attended by enthusiasts, are said to have held their own with last year fairly well. But the July registrations from a popular point of view are thirty per cent below last year. Officers of these enterprises are, hoping for better things in August, but are admitting that unless these better things come the season will be among the poorest in many years. Reasons given for these adverse conditions are the weather, politics and automobiles.

Good News Association

United Brethren have just launched a Good News association, and have made it possible to employ, through it, five spreaders of such news. A committee of leading men of Pennsylvania and Ohio, members of the United Brethren church, is behind the association, which is to be incorporated. On a tentative plan the enterprise was begun last winter. It succeeded to such an extent that this summer it has been put into permanent form, and will enter upon active work in September next.

The new campaign is the old-fashioned evangelistic one on the newest plan. It is made up of leader,

Economists are busy with the problems of today,
And Scientific Management they say has come to stay,
But when it comes to cutting down both bills and household fuss,
I tell you what, POST TOASTIES are just the food for us.

Railroad Association To Hold Conference

Two thousand association workers, railroad employees and visitors, some of the latter from Europe and Australia, will attend the International conference to be held in Chicago at the beginning of October. It is the fourteenth such Y. M. C. A. conference to be held, the initial one starting in Fort Wayne in 1892, with fewer than two hundred men present. Orchestra Hall has been secured, and promoters are already on the task of informing railroad men of the country about the details. The Worth of the Kingdom. Matt. xlii:44-53.

Golden Text—Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you. Matt. vi:33.

(1.) Verse 44—What is the value in money of personal religion?

(2.) To what pains and expense ought a person be willing to go if necessary in order to obtain the salvation of his soul?

(3.) From the standpoint of pure statecraft what is Christianity worth to this country?

(4.) What are the chief characteristics of the "joy" experienced when a person obtains personal salvation?

(5.) Would it be right or wrong, and why, if a man should accidentally discover rich treasure in another man's field and hide that fact from the owner and then buy the field for what it was worth minus the treasure?

(6.) Verses 45-46—What would you say in the last analysis is the chief quest in every man's life?

(7.) What are the "goodly pearls" in life which all men should seek?

(8.) What would you say is the "pearl of great price," and how would you describe it?

(9.) What is the best way to seek the "pearl of great price?"

(10.) Verses 47-48—Can you describe the nature of a "drag-net?"

(11.) What would you say is the significance of this drag-net parable as applied to Christianity?

(12.) Who are the fishermen supposed in this parable?

(13.) What does the "sea" represent?

(14.) How many classes of people from a moral standpoint does the gospel story attract and hold under its influence?

(15.) Why would you say, or not, that many members of our churches answer to the description of "bad" fish?

(16.) Verses 49-50—What is your idea of the process which God will take at the end of the world to "sever the wicked from the just?"

(17.) What are the reasons for believing that Jesus did not mean a literal "furnace of fire?"

(18.) If Jesus did not mean that the wicked will be cast into a literal "furnace of fire" what did he mean?

(19.) Does the "wailing and gnashing of teeth" mentioned here indicate rage and disappointment or pain? Give your reasons.

Wages Were No
Object to Him.

"Can't you get any work?" asked a woman of the tramp who had applied at the back door for food. "Yes, ma'am," he replied. "I was offered a steady job by the man who lives down the road in that big white house."

"That's Mr. Oatseed. What was the work?"

"He wanted me to get up at four in the morning, milk 17 cows, feed, water and rub down four horses, clean the stables, and then chop wood until it was time to begin the day's work."

"What did he want to pay?"

Fool Him.

The owners of a certain farm had butter and eggs brought them daily by the daughter of the farmer. A trained nurse had a case at the owner's home. One day the farmer's wife and daughter were discussing this, when the little boy, who had been listening, said:

"Rita, if I go with you tomorrow, will you show me the trained nurse?"

The girl said she would, and the next day he accompanied her. The nurse came into the kitchen, said a few words to him, and went out. He ran home at once, and arrived breathless. "Mother," he cried, "the trained nurse is nothing but a girl!"—Harper's Baar.

Had Forgotten
The Directions.

They were mother and daughter traveling on the briny ocean. It was their first trip abroad and the sea was very rough.

Suddenly the daughter exclaimed:

"Oh, mamma, it's coming on again worse than ever!"

"But why, May," asked her mother, "did you not follow out the directions about which your father told you before you came aboard?"

"Because," answered the daughter in a faint voice, "I've forgotten whether I ought to breathe in as the vessel rises and let the breath go out as it moves downward, or whether it ought to be the other way. And, oh—oh—oh, I wish I were dead!"

He Hadn't Struck Oil.

Mrs. John Hays Hammond, wife of the widely known American mining engineer, shows as much appreciation of the marvels of the profession as her husband.

"One day a friend," she says, "came joyfully to Mr. Hammond declaring he had found oil flowing from a spring on his land. He brought along a sample in a bottle."

"The bottle was one which he had picked up in a hurry somewhere around the house. Mr. Hammond forwarded it to an expert chemist, and he and the client waited with considerable impatience for the report of the analysis to be returned. In a few days this telegram was received:

"Find no trace of oil. Your friend has struck paregoric." —Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegram.

Rather Neat Rejoinder.

A Frenchman, dining at the duke of Richmond's, bored the company by boasting that his country was first in everything, and supreme in fashions. Ruffles were then in vogue, and monsieur claimed that France deserved the credit for introducing them. "That is true," said George Selwyn, "but England improved them greatly by adding a shirt to them."

And There They Stop.

In 1861 Philip Reis showed the principle of the telephone, and was able to transmit musical sounds and even words. Alexander Graham Bell perfected the inadequate apparatus of Reis, exhibiting his work in 1876, and put the discovery at the service of everybody.

Plea for Simple Diet.

"Simple diet," said Pliny, "is best, for many dishes bring many diseases; and rich sauces are worse than even heaping several meats upon each other."

Mrs. Dickover.

HAPPY THO' MARRIED?

There are unhappy married lives, but a large percentage of these unhappy homes are due to the illness of the wife, mother or daughter. The feelings of nervousness, the befogged mind, the ill-temper, the pale and wrinkled face, hollow and circled eyes, result most often from those disorders peculiar to women. For the woman to be happy and good-looking she must naturally have good health. Dragging-down feelings, hysteria, hot-flashes or constantly returning pains and aches—are too great a drain upon a woman's vitality and strength. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores weak and sick women to sound health by regulating and correcting the local disorders which are generally responsible for the above distressing symptoms.

"I suffered greatly for a number of years and for the past three years was so bad that life was a misery to me," writes Mrs. B. F. Dickover, of Utica, Ohio, Route 4. "The doctors told me I would have to go to a hospital before I would ever be better. A year ago this winter and spring I was worse than ever before. At each period I suffered like one in torment. I am the mother of six children. I was so bad for five months that I knew something must be done, so I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, telling him as nearly as I could how I suffered. He outlined a course of treatment which I followed to the letter. I took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and a fifty-cent bottle of 'Smart-Weed,' and have never suffered much since. I wish I could tell every suffering woman the world over what a boon Dr. Pierce's medicines are. There is no use wasting time and money doctoring with anything else or any one else."

The Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y., answers hosts of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know. Sent free on receipt of 31 stamps to pay for wrapping and mailing only.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Big Jack Tesreau, Ozark mountain product, held the Reds puzzled throughout the game, shutting them out.

Warner, Brown university recruit, did the same for Pittsburg, beating the Braves three to nothing.

It was a pitchers' day all around. Walter Johnson won from Detroit, and Wood, in good form, beat the Browns. Both shutouts—4 to 0 and 9 to 0.

Lavender outpitched Ragon and made it three straight for the Cubs at Brooklyn.

The Cardinals cleaned up at Philadelphia. Harmon striking out three pinch hitters in the ninth.

Clarke, Cincinnati catcher, made a double play by taking a man running in from third, and throwing to second, cutting a man off who had started to third. The play followed a long throw in from right field.

ROCKFORD TEAM DISREGARDS RULE. ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 3.—The local team of the Wisconsin-Illinois league today is operating without the much discussed rule prohibiting an optional player taking any part in league games if he played with any team of higher than the B class during the previous season. President F. S. Edmonson, of the Wisconsin-Illinois league obtained a decision from the national commission saying that the rule was antagonistic to the spirit of the national agreement.

JEANNETTE CLAIMS TITLE. NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Having claimed Jack Johnson's title on the ground that he had forced the big Galveston black to retire, Dan McKetrick, manager of Joe Jeannette, announced today he will try to arrange a Labor Day fight between the Hoboken negro and Tommy Burns, the former title holder.

BRITANS WANT POLO TITLE. NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—An international polo match is certain next year for the Hurlingham trophy, according to a cable received today from Harry Payne Whitney. The British team already selected will bring nearly 100 ponies in the effort to lift the cup.

COMMENTS U. S. OFFICERS. WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Beekman Winthrop, acting secretary of the navy, has received a letter commending the American officers showing in rifle and fencing contests at Stockholm, from Robert M. Thompson, chairman of the Olympic games committee.

BRESNAHAN KICKS ON UMPS DECISION

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—Manager Bresnahan of the St. Louis National league baseball club has sent a protest to President Lynch of the league against the victory of the Philadelphia club in Thursday's game.

The ground for the protest is that Umpire Orth failed to allow a claim of an infield fly in the fifth inning. With men on first and second and one out, Konetchy failed to hold a fly off Lobert, back of first base.

A claim of an infield fly was made but not allowed. Following this play, the home team scored two runs which gave them the victory.

CANTILLON SURE MILLERS WILL WIN

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 3.—Joe Cantillon, manager of the Minneapolis club, is taking a very optimistic view of the Millers' chances for the pennant.

Pongo argues thusly: "We have thirty-six straight games at home and barring unforeseen accidents, I cannot see where we can lose the flag, unless we blow a mile high, while Toledo and Columbus, our only opponents, are traveling as much as they are at home and will do so for the remainder of the season."

DOUBLE-HEADER HERE TOMORROW

What promises to draw one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a semi-pro baseball game in La Crosse, is the Clothing Company-Summit game at the League park tomorrow afternoon, when the two clubs clash in a double bill. Bartels and Chasms will be on the mound for the city champions, while Blank will do the pitching for the Summits. Both clubs have established good records in the games played this season out of the city, and the fans will undoubtedly enjoy as good an article of ball next Sunday as they could wish to see.
